The Star Vista is celebrating SG50 with Project Celebrate, a community-engagement music initiative. Organised in collaboration with Singapore Polytechnic (SP), the project encourages the public to be part of an original composition titled You & Me written by Scarlet Avenue, an upcoming local band. In March, you can add your vocals to the acapella version of the song in a specially constructed recording studio at The Star Vista's Star Plaza by SP students from the School of Digital Media & Infocomm Technology. When completed, the song and music video will be made available on broadcast and social media platforms. Details of the recording will be released closer to the date at www.thestarvista.com.
